Anesthetic Release

I hereby authorize PARMER LANE PET HOSPITAL my permission to administer a general anesthetic to my pet. I understand the potential risks associated with general anesthesia. In the event of a complication or emergency, I give my permission to perform any necessary treatments or procedures. I understand that I am responsible for any additional charges due to unexpected complications.

Pre-Anesthetic Blood Work

We use only the safest anesthetics available. An examination prior to anesthesia is done at no charge. A series of blood tests is required to better evaluate your pet's health status, unless this has been performed within the past 8 weeks. These tests help rule out pre-existing conditions that might not be evident on examination. Results are evaluated prior to proceeding with anesthesia.

Intra-Operative Fluid Therapy

Intravenous catheters are placed in all patients undergoing general anesthesia to ensure the comfort and safety of your pet. Catheters are used for administration of sedatives, pain medications, and fluids necessary to stabilize blood pressure and maintain hydration.

General anesthesia, anesthetic monitors, IV catheter with fluids, dental cleaning, and an oral exam is included in the cost of a dental procedure. Required blood work is an additional cost if it has not been performed within the past 8 weeks. The need for additional services (x-rays, gum surgery, extractions, pain injection, or pain medications, etc) cannot be fully assessed until your pet is anesthetized. Once your pet has had a thorough oral examination, we may need to call you with recommendations and cost estimates.

*If you can NOT be reached, we will perform any needed procedures to insure the health and comfort of your pet unless the additional cost exceeds:
(circle one) $100 $200 $300 $400 $500 (GIVE AMOUNT) $ _____

Miscellaneous Procedures

While under anesthesia, this is an excellent opportunity to have other procedures done at a reduced cost. Please initial next to any additional procedures you would like to have done.
